Hi. Came upon your guild's web site and thought I would let your group know that I have a bunch of hard wood that I am selling. I have the two batches posted on Craigslist, but any of your people can contact me directly. The wood was milled over 2 years ago and has aired dried in my shop since then. I am selling the remains of this milling experience, since I am in the process of a major overhaul on how I am using the space and cutting back on my material storage area.
